VOL. XIV, NO. 27.

GREENVILLE, KY., THURSDAY, AUGUST 8, 1912.

50c. PER YEAR, IN ADVANCE

FOR MILADY'S DRESSING TABLE

DOUBLE chins are said to disappear almost as if by magic when subjected to treatment with a set of little rollers, which are being used here for the first time. There is a tiny ivory and tortoise shell roller for rubbing away superfluous flesh under the chin and smoothing out the wrinkles which have a provoking way of making themselves visible in every young woman's face. This delicate toilet accessory must be manipulated with the utmost care. The set includes three rollers. Besides this one, which is the simplest of the three, there is a roller somewhat larger, supplied with a tortoise shell or amber handle and with four tiny ivory balls instead of the familiar cylinder. This quartette, working together, yet each having a rotary motion of its own, is supposed to change flesh into thin air or something equally invisible. The third in the set has two rollers, one being attached to each end of the tortoise shell handle. Each roller is designed to work on a special part of the face. A key to the working plan is enclosed in each box with the set, so that the amateur will have no difficulty whatever in managing the little cylinders and balls. And after she has learned the use of each she need not refer again to the chart.

There is a delightful new face cleanser which is less harmful to the finer skin than some of the soaps used by women and which, it is claimed, will accomplish the cleansing process quicker and more pleasantly than a water application. The cleansing liquid comes in two bottles, and they are to be mixed in the proportions of two of one to one of the other. The solution of which a smaller quantity is used is pinkish in color and has a clean, sweet odor. The other liquid looks like water. When the mixture has been made the face is cleansed with it by dipping a piece of absorbent cotton in the liquid and rubbing it gently all over the face. Cold cream applications are not so effective as the liquid cleanser.

A delicious cold cream intended for day use, one might say, to differentiate it from the cold creams put on at night to remove soil and wrinkles, comes in white jars and has a delicate pink in color. The cream is velvety smooth and has an exquisite odor. A little of it should be applied before the face powder is used. This keeps the skin smooth and protects it from the weather.

Instead of using face powder many women are now applying cold cream which has a becoming whitening effect and really is a substitute for the dry powder. The cream, it is claimed by the makers, has absolutely no grease in its composition. It has a flesh tint, and after it has been allowed to soak well into the pores of the skin the complexion looks pearly white and pink, yet does not have a powdered appearance. The cream comes in jars of different tints to match different complexions.

An eyebrow pencil is considered an important part of the modern toilet outfit. Imported pencils come up in long, thin silver or gilt tubes can be had in black or shades of brown, so that when deftly used the lines do not show conspicuously, while the eyebrow is effectively accentuated.

Triangular bottles of perfume are a novel importation from a French specialist in this line of toilet articles. The bottles are shaped differently for the different scents. There is a squat, wide bottle, tapering toward the top, which holds a deep amber liquid of rare fragrance and allurements. Another triangular bottle of blunter proportions contains a perfume of quite a different odor.

Novel Teacup Cosy

OUR sketch illustrates a little home-made contrivance that will be much appreciated by many people as it is of service for keeping warm the early morning bedroom cup of tea that always suffers so unless the recipient happens to be quite ready for it. It was made with the aid of a square tin biscuit box, and as biscuit boxes are constructed in almost every conceivable size and shape it is not difficult to obtain one that will fit comfortably over a cup and saucer. For this tin, and fitting it exactly, a cover

The ONCOOKER Disgraced

Side Frill to be Banished

No Longer Occupies Privileged Position, and Its Successor is Being Talked Of.

It must go. Smart women have decreed it. The abuse of this pretty fashion is accountable for its downfall. Some of the exaggerated examples of the side frills seen this winter have been laughable. "Heart guards," one man humorously dubbed them. When a frill that is ordinarily intended merely as a flash to the collar extends so far that it is necessary to pin it to the coat sleeve to keep it out of the way it is time to call a halt. What will take the place of the discarded side frill?

Who knows? Those who invent fashions, and already have their heads together selecting on something quite new in neck linings. Just at present the return of the straight, face-trimming collar, that was in vogue for so many years is predicted. Plaited tulle jabots are also candidates, but they are not practical, although usually becoming.

The skirts to the evening dresses are, however, of them have trains, and the trains are usually made in the long court length. Many of the new street and auto coats have their collars and cuffs trimmed with velvet, corduroy, satin, begonia, braid or satin. There seems to be no end to the designs in scarfs just now and the materials used also—satin, velvet and fur as well as lace and batiste. The accordion plaited full, straight jabot is the very newest style of jabot and appears in black and white. Whether this will supersede the popular side ruffle remains to be seen.

Most fashionable materials are rich and heavy. Tailored costumes are made up of thick woolly goods and for suits and dresses even plush is used, with heavy chenille fringe as trimming. A double row of buttons of embroidered silk outlined with button loops of silk or embroidery trim many of the smartest models from the neck down to the bottom of the skirt, or from the waist line down.

White Marabou the Fad. In fancy feathers, tall military pom-poms are approved, and are worn in marabou, ostrich and eon. White marabou is the current fad.

IN VOGUE

How to Make a Bathrobe. "Lizzie M." writes us requesting instructions for making a bath robe for her husband. The first thing to do is to get the goods. There is a wide range of choice in this particular, but it is better to avoid the pretty flowered chamois, unless you hope to utilize the bath robe when worn out as a covering for chairs or a lounge. Also do not get silk or satin. These look pretty, but few like them.

Elberdown is a good material, or a pair of array blankets can be used. Lay the goods on a table or bed and cut out. If you have no pattern, rip your husband's best overcoat apart and evolve a pattern from it. No doubt he will have left his best overcoat at home and worn the other one—if he has another—to work. You do not need to cut so many pieces for the bath robe as there are in the coat. Simply cut two pieces, one for each side, with semicircular holes shaped by a pen, for the armholes. Cut two parallelograms the length of his arm and sew them into cylindrical shape for the sleeves. It is a great deal of trouble to fit the neck and collar, so you might put in a lace yoke from any old dress of your own. Sew the bath robe with pockets for soap, brush, towel, shaving, tobacco and ear fare. Your husband may quibble a bit over the looks of the robe, but tell him that bath robes are not generally worn except in the seclusion of the bathroom, so he needn't worry. Anyhow, where love is in the stitches who cares how the seams run? For a shower bath robe, punch holes in the garment with a heated punch, which you can borrow from any car conductor.

PIN-POINT. VIEW-POINT.

"I notice that the club women of New York have begun a crusade against long hair," said the tall man in the crowded aisle. "Absurd," growled the dark stranger next to him. "The tall man looked around in some surprise. 'Don't you consider the long hair a dangerous menace?'" "Stiff and nonsense!" snorted the stranger. "The tall man spoke with much deliberation. 'Don't you know,' he demanded, 'that hairpins are dangerous the way they are made?'" "I know nothing of the sort," the dark man spluttered. "I make em."

Ches Wasn't There. "First thing you do," says the employer to the new young man who has been engaged as a city salesman, "you go into the back office and take that desk the other man used, and see if you can get some order out of chaos." An hour later the enthusiastic young man appears and diffidently reports: "Mr. Kimpfeler, I am sorry, but I have looked all through the card index and the telephone directory, and I can't find the address of Mr. Ches to solicit that order from him." Judge.

Bad Spells

"I suffered, during childhood, from womanly weakness," writes Mrs. Mollie Navy, of Walnut, N. C. "At last, I was almost bed-ridden, and had to give up. I had three doctors. All the time, I was getting worse. I had bad spells, that lasted from 7 to 25 days. In one week, after I gave Cardui a trial, I could eat, sleep, and joke, as well as anybody. In 8 weeks, I was well. I had been an invalid for 5 weary years! Cardui relieved me, when everything else failed."

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

If you are weak and ailing, think what it would mean, to you to recover as quickly as Mrs. Navy did! For more than 50 years, this purely vegetable, tonic remedy for women, has been used by thousands of weak and ailing sufferers. They found it of real value in relieving their aches and pains. Why suffer longer? A remedy that has relieved and helped so many, is ready, at the nearest drug store, for use, at once, by you. Try it, today.

50 CENTS PER YEAR, IN ADVANCE.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 8, 1912.

Entered at the Postoffice, Knoxville, Tenn., as second-class matter.

This forward movement of the suffragettes may be somewhat chagrined by the tight skirt, but not as much as you might think.

COL. BRYAN'S gift of $1,000 to the Wilson campaign had doubtless will arouse the righteous indignation of Ryan, Richmond and Murphy.

SILVER dollars, minted thirty-three years ago in San Francisco, have just been put in circulation. Who'd imagine money would keep so long.

THROUGH the Russian when crop is 10,000,000 bushels smaller this year than last, a record-breaking wheat crop is ripening in the American northwest so cheer up again.

SENATOR ROOF told Mr. Taft that the latter's title to the nomination is as clear as was that of any candidate since political conventions began, which is as delicately as the case can be put.

BOSSES are bosses because they have the capacity for getting things done, usually the wrong things. Why cannot some of our perfectly good citizens tear our bosses what to do, or learn from the bosses how to do it?

PROF. SMITH of the University of Minnesota says there ought to be a law preventing feeble-minded women from getting married. To which the Serene Order of Old Maids might retort that such a law would make matrimony an obsolete institution.

IT'S no use! Even chiggers have become progressive and have learned to migrate from one person to another. Therefore he who refuses to go to picnics does not thereby protect himself; the red invaders will get to him when he associates with a returned picnicker. Better go and get your own chiggers.

PROF. PARKER announces that he failed to reach the top of Mount McKinley, and doubtless Dr. Cook will rush forward to claim this statement as a vindication of his pretensions. The doc is content with a Scotch verdict any time. And nobody has proved that he didn't register on the summit of Mount McKinley.

By the way, what became of the Swiss milk goats that St. Louis was going to import some years ago to solve the milk problem? It was asserted that one of those goats would supply rich wholesome milk sufficient for a large family, and could be kept in health and comfort on a small city lot. Where are the milk goats and Belgian hares of yesterday?

THESE are other times that try men's souls. Prepare to view with indignation if not with alarm. It was in St. Louis, you will remember, that the "socks for women" movement originated. And—significant fact—it is a St. Louis woman, Mrs. Denfler, president of the Woman's Trade Union League, who boldly says "that trousers are better for women than the present tight skirts. St. Louis is evidently the secret capital of the provisional 'woman's republic.'" We advise St. Louis husbands, fathers and brothers to sleep in 'em, if they don't want to lose 'em.

THE figures that represent fire waste in this country amount to higher and higher totals, in spite of the constant agitation for better building laws. For the first half of 1912 the loss was a hundred and thirty-four million dollars, many millions more than for the corresponding periods in 1911 or 1910, although there were no great conflagrations like those in Baltimore and San Francisco a few years ago. Nowhere in the world are there better fire departments or more effective fire devices than here in America, but in no other civilized land are the standards of construction in the city so low. As for the country, we are still a nation of builders in wood. Perhaps there is hope in the coming of the age of concrete.

AFTER the great earthquake of December 28th, 1905, which completely destroyed the city of Messina, the few survivors, aided by international philanthropy, erected temporary wooden buildings south of the old city, and here commercial and official business has since been carried on. On the original site of Messina not a single building had been erected or even begun up to the end of last year. Now, however, preparations for rebuilding the city are well under way. Since July, 1911, the systematic removal of the debris from the streets has been in progress. The plan of reconstruction includes a raise in the level and an extension of the harbor front.

MR. GEORGE A. LINDSAY, writing in the Transactions of the Academy of Science of St. Louis, gives some interesting statistics of the rainfall of the United States, not expressed in the conventional inches of depth, but in the aggregate volume and weight of the moisture that falls annually over a given area. To anyone who is familiar only with the customary method of stating rainfall, it is somewhat startling to learn, for instance, that 43.9 cubic miles of rain fell in Missouri during the year of 1896. This is decidedly more impressive than the statement that the rainfall was about 40 inches. In the same year 1,296.4 cubic miles of water is computed to have fallen over the whole area of the United States, and the average annual rainfall is somewhat greater than this; viz., 1,358 cubic miles, weighing 6,000,000,000,000 tons. As an illustration of the fact that most of the water that falls never reaches the sea through the medium of drainage, but is evaporated from the land, Mr. Lindsay shows that the discharge of the Mississippi River at St. Louis is but little greater than the volume of rainfall over the state of Missouri alone, despite the enormous area drained by the river above that point.

Shingles
This disease is marked by severe neuralgic pains accompanied by an eruption of small, hard blisters that resemble ordinary cold sores. On the body the eruption occurs in a well-marked line, on one side only. The cases in which it passes across both sides of the chest or abdomen are extremely rare. Seen from the side, the line of blisters suggests a belt, whence the scientific name of the disease—zona or zoster, the one Latin, and the other Greek for girdle.

The disease begins with a general feeling of illness, usually without any definite symptoms. Occasionally the neuralgic pains appear before the eruption. There is some fever with more or less indigestion, and in some cases faint blue or pink spots along the line where the characteristic eruption is to appear.

After three or four days the eruption comes out quiet suddenly, with severe burning pain. The blisters are quiet firm and hard to the touch. The fluid is clear or yellow, is in color, and after the eruption has lasted a few days, brownish crusts form. These fall off after three or four days, and leave a smooth, slightly reddish surface. The pain may persist for some time after the eruption has disappeared. The eruption is most often on the chest, but may affect the abdomen, the face, or other parts of the body.

It is believed that shingles is the result of an inflammation of one of the nerves just after it leaves the spinal canal, and that the eruption appears along the affected nerve. There is little to do by way of treatment. The blisters may be covered with some soothing ointment, and if the pain is very severe, a hot-water bag or hot cloths may be applied. While an attack is at its height, care should be taken to protect the blisters from the friction of clothing, and this may best be accomplished by spending a day or two in bed.

THE LINE OF THE SPINE

shown above is the curved line which truthfully presents to your eye the condition of your spine if you use a sewing machine. The reason for this is the family sewing machine is ordinarily constructed, is altogether wrong. You cannot sit straight in your chair while operating your machine—try it, sit straight and square as you should, and see if you can sew on your machine. You can't. The needle is 4 1/2 inches from the center where it ought to be. To follow your work you have to twist your body to the left. This twist calls for a wrench and strain of all the delicate joints and ligaments, stretching stomach, spleen, liver, kidneys, bowels and nerves, and resulting in the NEURALGIC SPINE.

If it were possible for a growing child to operate an ordinary sewing machine, it would be injured for life. The soft cartilage of its spine would twist and warp, its vital organs would be injured to such an extent as to produce nervous disorders. In schools, as you know, desks and chairs are specially constructed to avoid spinal curvature. In factories where sewing machines are used, the work is always directly central with the operator, otherwise they could not stand the strain of the twist of the body and continue to work. THE STANDARD CENTRAL NEEDLE MACHINE is a new type of family sewing machine designed as a health saver and preserver of doctors' bills. In this machine the needle is central with the work—directly over the center of the body. To use it calls for no twist of the spine. It causes no strain on the internal organs and consequent torture of the nerves. WITH THE STANDARD CENTRAL NEEDLE MACHINE a woman is safe in using it all day and every day; without it she is not. Compare the two pictures—positions taken from life and death which you will have—THE SIDE NEEDLE SPINE or THE CENTRAL NEEDLE SPINE. We have printed a valuable book, "A STRIP IN THE SPINE," which is yours FREE for the asking—and every intelligent woman will want it and will thank us for bringing it to her attention. It goes into the subject of sewing machine construction thoroughly and explains how and why the STANDARD CENTRAL NEEDLE SEWING MACHINE is vital to the health of woman and growing girls, and how easy it is to buy. If you value your health and the health of your daughters—you will send for a copy at once—no obligation. It is FREE. A postal will bring it by return mail. ROARK, Greenville, Ky.

Howard Mathis Writes Home.

Mr. W. S. Mathis received a card Tuesday from his son, Howard, who a few weeks ago left home without notice, and his whereabouts being unknown. His parents have of course been extremely anxious about him, and have made every endeavor to locate him. Recently the newspapers were resorted to, and advertisements were inserted in a number of them, and it is thought this brought about the correspondence. Howard writes that he is well, has been at work, and will be glad to hear from his folks. He wrote from Medora, Ind., but said that he was going to Salem, Ind., where an answer should be addressed to him. It is likely that he will soon return home, which will please his parents and his many friends hereabouts.

Tom Rhea Assails Robt. Hardison, Jr.

Last Monday about noon Tom Rhea, state treasurer, assailed Robert Hardison, Jr., in the court house at Russellville, using a heavy cane which he had just borrowed from some one. Mr. Hardison was one of the most active and effective supporters of Hon. R. V. Thomas in his campaign, and it is supposed this aroused the anger of Rhea, though Mr. Hardison suspected nothing of the kind, and as Mr. Rhea came up, Hardison spoke and offered his hand to Rhea, who with an oath declined to shake hands and struck Hardison over the head, mashing his hat and inflicting a laceration of the scalp. Friends took Rhea away, and it is said he left town on the first train. The attack is said to have been unwarranted, and Rhea is generally censured for his display of anger.

Loses Leg Attempting to Get On Train.

Roden Laswell, a young fellow who lives at Luzerne, suffered the loss of his right leg in an attempt to get on the local freight last Thursday morning near Powderly. Laswell had a basket on his arm, as the train passed him he attempted to get on it, but in some way was thrown down, and the caboose ran over the leg, mashing it so that amputation was necessary. The train crew did not see the accident, and so did not stop. One or two passengers saw the boy lying on the track, but the train had gotten so far away that they did not know the boy was seriously injured. Laswell is at the home of his sister, Mrs. Hermon Westerfield, and is getting along splendidly, and unless complications arise will be out in a few weeks.

Kill the Fly. Why? Because—

Flies breed in manure and other filth.

Flies walk and feed on excreta and sputa from people ill with typhoid fever, tuberculosis, diarrhoeal affections and many other diseases.

One fly can carry and may deposit on our food 6,000,000 bacteria.

One fly in one summer may produce normally 105,312,500,000,000,000 descendants.

A fly is an enemy to health—the health of our children, the health of our community!

A fly cannot develop from the egg in less than eight days; therefore, if we clean up everything thoroughly every week, and keep all manure screened, there need be no flies.

Will you help in the campaign against the pest?

Song Recital by Brooklyn Artist.

The ladies' aid society of the Cumberland church have arranged to have Miss Grace Dyer, of Brooklyn, here in a song recital either Monday or Tuesday evening, at the C. P. church. Miss Dyer is a soloist in a prominent New York church, and an artist of rare ability. The positive date will be announced later, and our people should arrange to hear her.

Death of George M. Dexter

Mr. George M. Dexter died at his home at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, after an illness of many months from cancer of the stomach. He had been under the care of the best physicians, but no relief could be obtained, and for some days it was realized that death was near. Through all his illness he maintained that cheerfulness and thoughtfulness which he was always manifesting, and which had drawn to him a wide circle of friends. Mr. Dexter came to Greenville more than thirty years ago, and from the first was identified with the forward movement of the city and county, and his wide acquaintance and forceful personality made him a power for good. In point of years he was one of the oldest business men in town, and his liberality and accommodations were appreciated by hundreds of people who recognized his worthy service. He was a member of the Baptist church, and Rev. Wm. J. Mahoney, of Madisonville, a former pastor, conducted the funeral service at that church at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, in the presence of a host of friends from town and county. Interment was in Evergreen cemetery. The county has lost a valuable man, and his wife and children have the most profound sympathy of all in their great loss.

About 100 new Victor records were received by Roark this week. Drop in and hear the latest in popular and the most enduring of the standard productions, rendered by the world's best artists.

"THE ROAD OF COMFORT"

REMINGTON-UMC

AUTOLOADING SHOTGUN

For singles—trap or field—just toss in a shell, press the button and—"PULL." The side bolt makes it easy. You don't have to tug at the barrel or watch an on-and-off device. The action stays open after each single shot is fired—it always stays open when the magazine is empty. Five shots—three to get the clippings—each under absolute control of the trigger finger. The recoil reloads for you—kicks another shell in; takes the strain off the gun—the discomfort out of the kick—all without diminishing the drive behind the shot.

Simple take-down—a few turns of the readily handled magazine screw-cap makes cleaning, carrying and interchange of barrels quick and easy.

Send for a motion picture booklet telling how the kick is used—how a friction device found only on the Remington-UMC Autoloading Shotgun takes the punishment out of heavy loads.

WHEN MAKING NOODLES

FOR BEST RESULTS, TRY THESE APPROVED RECIPES.

Little Accessories That Give Flavor to the Soup Are Well Worthy of Attention—Here Some Handy Hints.

The following recipes represent the experience of several noodle makers, as described by them:

Noodle Soup.—Boil a small bunch of beef (or three bones, strain of liquor, return to the pot, and add salt. Make noodles by rubbing into one egg as much flour as it will take, then roll out as thin as a wafer. Drop over a little flour and turn roll. Cut off thin slices from the edge of the roll and shake out into long strips. Drop lightly into soup and let it boil for ten minutes after they are put in. About a tablespoon of salt should be added while cooking in the soup.

Bread Noodles.—One egg, one tablespoon of water, pinch of salt, one-half cup flour, or enough to thicken. Put a quart of boiling water in a bowl and break into it an egg. Add water, stir all together and add more flour until a thick dough is formed. Then roll out to a thin sheet and let dry a few minutes. Drop into a little flour, roll up and cut into broad strips and lay them straight to dry. Drop in boiling water with a pinch of salt and boil for twenty minutes. Drain in colander, put in dish, and cover with browned bread crumbs and a little butter.

Noodles.—One egg, one-fourth teaspoon of salt, three-fourths cup of flour. Beat the egg, add salt, and add the flour to make a stiff dough—three-fourths of a cup is usually sufficient. Roll out on a floured board till as thin as a wafer and leave on board to dry while soup is cooking. Then set up in little thin strips and drop in boiling stock. Let boil about thirty minutes.

Some cooks after rolling out their noodle dough hang it over a roller or over a clean cloth on a broomstick to dry. Of course eggs are in different places, so it is impossible to tell the exact amount of flour that any one egg will require.

China on which is left decoration should not be washed in strong soap suds or water containing washing powder.

In washing ordinary china the water the water the more early the pieces will dry and the brighter they will be.

Leather-covered furniture can be cleaned with sweet milk applied with a piece of soft flannel. Rub gently until dry.

Dish cloths should be kept scrupulously clean by washing thoroughly in soap and water, well rinsed and hung in the air after using.

An ordinary brick is excellent for an iron stand and if heated before using the items will keep hot much longer than with the common iron stand.

Perfume in Cakes.

The latest luxury for the woman who likes a faint fragrance of sweetness about all her belongings is the cake of perfume which may be tossed among lingerie or lace without the trouble of soiling sachet powder up in cotton batting and silk pods. These cakes of perfume are put up attractively, and when the perfume fades—as all perfumes do when exposed to the air—the surface of the cake may be scratched and a new surface of sweetness exposed. These cakes of perfume are not by any means inexpensive, a small cake costing almost $1, but the perfume is dainty and refined and by scratching the surface occasionally the cake may be used some time.

Baked Mackerel.

After filleting the fish, cut each piece in two, season with pepper, salt and lemon juice, and arrange on a buttered dish or tin—first, a piece of fish, then a slice of tomato, and so on until all are used. Pour over a little stock made from the bones, cover with a buttered paper, and cook in the oven for 20 minutes. Fish up, mix the stock in which the fish was cooked with a little brown sauce, boil up, and finally stir in a good-sized piece of butter. Pour the sauce over the fish and serve.

Olive Oil Pickles.

Use medium-sized cucumbers, a gallon jar and small bottle of best olive oil (50-cent size). Slice cucumbers without paring, and for every three cucumbers use one tablespoon each of salt, brown sugar and black mustard seed, pouring the oil gradually over each layer. Fill the jar with vinegar and after standing two weeks pack in glass jars if you wish.

Blend for Potted Beef.

(For one pound of meat pounded to a paste.) Use one level tablespoonful of salt; one teaspoonful (level) of pepper, one-half teaspoonful of thyme, and one teaspoonful of sage, with melted butter sufficient to bind to a thick paste.

"The Only Thing That Will Relieve Neuralgia."

The piercing pains of Neuralgia, which often follows a bad cold or La Grippe, are frequently almost unbearable and few medicines afford any relief to the sufferer.

"I am a rural mail carrier and have been a user of the Dr. Miles' medicines for years.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills can't be beaten. They are the only thing I have found that will relieve my neuralgia and I have tried most everything, besides medicines from the doctor. I am willing to tell anyone what the Anti-Pain Pills did for me."
